QUEENSBOROUGH COMMUNITY COLLEGE SERVICES FOR ENGLISH LANGUAGE LEARNING STUDENTS

CENTER FOR TUTORING AND ACADEMIC SUPPORT

SERVICES OFFERED

CONVERSATION HOURS are an opportunity for students to practice their English listening and speaking skills in a friendly, collaborative environment where participants are encouraged to think about and comment on current events. Faculty from QCC's English Department or staff from the Center for Tutoring and Academic Support will facilitate the hour. Conversation Hours are held in Room L-113. For more information, call 718.631.6663

GRAMMAR CLINICS are a great way to deepen students' understanding of how English "works." Students will be invited to attend a 60-minute small group session. During the first 30 minutes, the workshop will focus on a specific grammar topic that changes each week. For the remaining 30 minutes, students will be invited to ask their own unique grammar questions on any topic. Grammar Clinics are held in Room L-113. For more information, call 718.631.6663

ONE-ON-ONE WRITING TUTORING will be offered on an on-going basis throughout the year, helping students develop their ability to express themselves in standard academic American English. Students are welcome to come to for any writing occasion, whether it is for a course (essay, research paper, lab report, etc.) or personal piece of writing (resume, cover letter, scholarship application, etc.). Writing Tutoring is offered in Room L-113. For more information, call 718.631.6663

For schedules and more information about these services, please visit the Center for Tutoring and Academic Support website:

EXPRESS COMMUNICATION If English is not your first language, communicating can be challenging. This five-session workshop will help you improve your communication skills and build your confidence. You will learn about word pronunciation, the basic concepts of grammar, and work on your interpersonal and group communication skills. The workshop is interactive and provides ample opportunities to practice speaking in a variety of settings. This workshop will be held in Room L-115. For more information, call 718.631.6660

LECTURE NOTE-TAKING Taking notes in class can be difficult. As a college student, it is vital that you have clear and understandable notes to help you study for your class. During this workshop, you will learn different methods of note-taking and discover which techniques best fit your learning style. Lecture Note-Taking Workshops are held in Room L-115. For more information, call 718.631.6660

MAKING YOUR TEXTBOOK WORK FOR YOU During this workshop, you will learn how to become an active reader and get the most out of each chapter in your textbook. You will learn how to read with a purpose, preview a text, and identify the main ideas and details. This workshop will be held in Room L-115. For more information, call 718.631.6660

READING ACROSS THE DISCIPLINES: In this workshop, you will learn that not all textbooks are the same. You will discover how a history textbook is different from a biology textbook, which is different than an accounting textbook. Together, we will discuss and practice strategies you can use to help you effectively and confidently read your textbooks. This workshop will be held in Room L-115. For more information, call 718.631.6660

PRONUNCIATION WORKSHOPS are opportunities for students to practice their English speaking skills with a particular focus on developing confidence in their pronunciation of a range of common English words and phrases. Faculty from QCC's English Department will facilitate the hour. Pronunciation Workshops are held in Room L-113. For more information, call 718.631.6663

STUDY STRATEGIES AND TEST TAKING SKILLS In this workshop, we will discuss different study techniques to help you learn information and concepts covered in your class. We will also practice test-taking strategies for tackling multiple choice and short answer questions, so that you can be more prepared for your tests / exams. This workshop will be held in Room L-115. For more information, call 718.631.6660
